Matchday 2 Points

FPL Salah’s World Cup Fantasy Round 3 team and transfers

I have activated my Wildcard for Matchday 3.

With certain teams already qualified or even won their groups I will mostly be targetting teams who have something to play for and trying to fit in as many qualifying scouting bonus players as possible.

FPL Salah’s World Cup Fantasy Booster Strategy

My rough chip or booster plan is as follows:

- Matchday 3 – Wildcard Active
- Matchday 4 (last 32) – Qualification Booster or Clean Sheet Shield
- Matchday 5 (last 16) – Qualification Booster or Clean Sheet Shield

I will save my max captain for the quarter-finals onwards.

Achraf Hakimi ($6.0m) has a fine fixture against Haiti and Morocco are at 54% to keep a clean sheet and we know he has immense attacking threat too.

Brandon Mechele ($3.9m) should be nailed to start for Belgium and also qualifies for scouting bonus.

Hakimi and Denzel Dumfries ($5.7m) are the only players in my defence who are above 5% ownership at the time of writing.

In midfield Ismail Saibari ($6.8m) is pretty much nailed as he's playing up top and classed as a midfielder. He has unfortunately breached the scouting bonus threshold but is still a fine pick.

Vinicius Jr ($10.0m) and Lamine Yamal ($10.0m) are world class players and their teams have something to play for so I have opted for them for my highest owned players.

Both Brazil and Spain are not guaranteed to win their groups so will surely play their strongest XI's.

I like the double up in attack for Senegal as they desperately need a win to have any chance of making it to the round of 32 with a third place entry.

Their fixture against Iraq is one of the best of the Matchday. I may still even triple up on attack with them.

Both Sadio Mane ($7.6m) and Nicolas Jackson ($6.7m) are well below 5% ownership too.

Leandro Trossard's ($6.6m) fixture against New Zealand is as good as it gets and he's been playing plenty of minutes.

Ultimately I have targeted the best fixtures for attack and defence while trying to fit as many scouting bonus eligible players as possible. I think this team gives a good balance but I could even add one or two more.

Mikel Oyarzabal ($8.1m) could become Brian Brobbey ($5.7m) or Ismaila Sarr ($6.2m) who are both under 5% ownership.

If I really want to push the boat out, Yamal or Vinicius could go for Brahim Diaz ($6.4m) also.

Disclaimer

There’s always a small chance I make a late change or two very close to the deadline, and won’t have time to update the article. This could be due to a number of factors, including late injury updates or early team news for example. However, this is likely to be a very rare occurrence.

As ever, my final team will be posted on my X page before the deadline.
